

Edith Wharton

Hermione Lee talks about her critically-acclaimed biography

Chawton House Library Fellow's Lecture

on 12th June 2008

Professor Hermione Lee, University of Oxford, has written a painstakingly researched account of Edith Wharton's life and works. Lee presents Wharton in a new and different light, illuminating the complexities and inner struggles of this fascinating woman whose writing tackled the conflicting, and often thwarted, desires of women – and men – in the 'age of innocence' and beyond.

Lecture Tickets: £15 & £10 for friends/students (includes wine & canapés)

Supper Tickets: £45 (reception, lecture & two-course meal with wine)

6.30pm Reception with wine and canapés

7.00pm Lecture

8.15pm Literary Supper

Chawton House Library

To book, or for more info, call 01420 541010 or email info@chawton.net.